

GREGORY C. OWENS
Director, Real Estate Management Division

Greg Owens currently serves as Director of the Real Estate Management Division for the Miami-Dade Aviation Department (MDAD), responsible for real estate management and development at Miami International Airport and Miami-Dade County's four General Aviation airports.

Mr. Owens' aviation career has afforded him the opportunity to serve as manager of the $1.5 billion American Airlines expansion at MIA, and finance for facilities and business development at MDAD's general aviation airports.

His public service career began as Director of Miami-Dade County's Department of Business and Economic Development. Mr. Owens brought 13 years of commercial banking experience to his public service, last serving as Regional Vice President for Community Reinvestment Lending, South Florida Region, of what was then called First Union National Bank.

During his career, Mr. Owens has received numerous awards and honors. To list a few: appointed by the Clinton Administration as a member of the White House Conference on Small Business; recipient of the Minority Business Development Agency's Regional Award for "Empowering Businesses;" testified before the U.S. House of Representatives Subcommittee on Economic Growth and Credit; and also testified before the Florida House of Representatives on the formation of a Committee on Banking and Urban Affairs.

He holds a Business degree from Alabama A&M University.
